UBC Application workshops: Did you know that all faculties at UBC (along with many other competitive faculties at other universities) now require you to answer personal profile questions in their applications? Puzzled about what to write? UBC Hope is group of 3rd and 4th year UBC students who can help. Sign up for their workshops on Nov 20 and Nov 21 at www.showpass.com (search 'UBC Hope' under events and change the location to 'Burnaby'). For a $10 donation, they will guide you through the application system and help you highlight things to write about when answering your personal profile questions.
